DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lin.

With regard to claim 5, Lin (US 6,677,668) discloses a tailored integrated circuit interconnect module comprising:

a support substrate

having mounted thereon at least one primary integrated circuit device chip (320) and a plurality of interacting peripheral integrated chip devices (330-1,2,) said interconnect module including a plurality of interface pins (380, since term pin refers to pins, solder balls, solder columns and other), each integrated circuit device having a plurality of interface ports, at least one of which is connected to another one of said plurality of integrated circuit devices, at least one of said integrated circuit devices having an interface port connected to an interface pin whereby the majority of nodes on said peripheral devices are adapted to interface with nodes of one or more primary IC devices in such a way as to condense the number of nets so that the total number of nodes connected to external pins is minimized.

With regard to claim 6, Lin discloses at least one of said integrated circuit devices is a network processor (col. 4, lines 28-30) and at least one of said other devices a memory device (inherently).

With regard to claim 7, Lin discloses the interconnections between said devices have different impedances (since the interconnection traces have different trace geometry).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 07/12/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the applicant's tailored interconnect module as defined in claim 5 is not shown in Figs. 4A and 4B; is not referred elsewhere in Lin. However, as it is shown in the current rejection, all of the limitations of claim 5 are met by Lin's structure. Hence, the rejection deems to be proper.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
